Who IS Paul Oakenfold?

Paul was born and raised in London, England and began mixing at the age of 16 with friend Trevor Fung playing soul and rare-groove at a basement bar in Covent Garden. His musical roots expanded while living in West Harlem, New York in the 80's.

Hanging out in various clubs during this period and working as a courier for local dance radio stations exposed him to the birth of Hip Hop. Back in England Paul landed a job at Champion Records as an A&R man his keen ear ensured he quickly signed Jazzy Jeff & the Fresh Prince and Salt n' Pepa, which saw Paul then move to the London offices of Profile and Def Jam. His big break however came with his remix of U2's "Even Better Than The Real Thing".

U2 repaid Oakenfold by inviting him to act as the opening DJ on their Zooropa world tour. After this Paul held DJ residencies at Cream in Liverpool and Ministry of Sound in London. Paul's reputation for playing great sets to large crowds made him the obvious choice to be the first DJ to play on the main stage at Glastonbury.

Paul still continues to be one of the world's leading re-mixers. Recent projects include remixing for the second time U2's "Beautiful Day" whilst still working with the world's top recording artists including, Madonna's (Hollywood), Justin Timberlake (Rock your Body) and the one and only Elvis (Rubber Neckin) in addition to working on tracks by Michael Jackson Jennifer Lopez, Natasha Bedingfield's 'If Your Gonna' and The Doors.
